

SOLDIERS' REUNION

Held Here on Flag Day Was Attended by

TWO HUNDRED MEMBERS

And Many Visitors—Exercises at Court House Well Attended and Addresses Stirring.

Tuesday was an ideal day and visitors from far and near came to the historic town to attend the nineteenth annual reunion of the Bedford County Veteran Association. At an early hour "Old Glory" was flying from public buildings, business places, and many private residences and was on that Flag Day more in evidence than ever before. An unusual patriotic spirit seemed to predominate.

Visiting veterans were met at the depot on the arrival of the morning trains by the Chief Marshal, Capt. A. I. Lyon, and his staff and escorted to the Court House, where badges were distributed to members. The Coal-dale Band furnished excellent martial music. At 10:30 a. m. the meeting was called to order by the President, Dr. A. Enfield, after which Hon. John M. Reynolds delivered an address.

The association furnished each member with a ticket to one of the local hotels for dinner. At 1 p. m. the veterans assembled for roll call, over two hundred of the four hundred members responding. This was followed by a stirring address by Hon. R. C. McNamara. The business meeting was then held and the following officers chosen for the ensuing year: President, S. W. Salkeld of Riddlesburg; Vice President, Capt. Eli Eichelberger of Saxton; Secretary, Alexander Prosser of Six Mile Run, and Treasurer, W. B. Filler of Rainsburg. The time and place of the next meeting will be decided upon later by the officers. Altogether the day was a most enjoyable one.

Hurt in Sawmill

Clay Zimmers, aged about 15 years, was seriously injured Wednesday afternoon while working at the sawmill on the farm of James O'Shea in Cumberland Valley. He was in the act of turning a log with a cant-hook when it slipped and he was thrown violently against another log, striking his head. The young man was unconscious for several hours and is still in a serious condition. Dr. W. F. Enfield was called and yesterday morning he was taken to the home of his father, Calvin Zimmers, near Wolfburg.

Mrs. Ellen James

Mrs. Mary Ellen James died at the home of her son-in-law, Francis Ott, at Ottown at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening, June 15, aged 86 years and one month.

Deceased was a Miss Gump and was born in Friend's Cove. She was married to Samuel James, a former well-known resident of Rainsburg, who died about two years ago. Mrs. James had been ill for about a year, having been stricken with paralysis, a second attack about three weeks ago proving fatal.

Three daughters survive her: Mrs. John M. L. Line of Altoona, Mrs. Mary C. Allen of Baltimore, and Mrs. Francis M. Ott of Friend's Cove. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock this morning in the Methodist Protestant Church of Rainsburg, of which she was a member. Rev. Clift conducting the services. Interment in the graveyard adjoining.

Reynolds Endorsed

The Republican County Committee held their annual meeting at this place Tuesday morning. Dr. W. C. Miller presided and George Points, Esq., was appointed Secretary of the meeting. All delegates were present. Dr. Miller was re-elected chairman and J. Howard Feight, vice chairman. A resolution was adopted endorsing Congressman John M. Reynolds for Governor of Pennsylvania, and delegates were instructed to vote for him.

RUDOLF WOLFF

Proprietor of Cigar Store Dies After Short Illness.

At his home, No. 420 South Richard Street, Rudolf Wolff, one of Bedford's best known business men, passed away shortly before 8 o'clock Saturday evening, June 11, in his 57th year. Death was due to Bright's disease and heart trouble.

Mr. Wolff had been in ill health for some time but attended to his business regularly until June 3 when he was compelled to take his bed. Long confinement to the store and severe attacks of rheumatism had undermined his health and on Thursday his life was despaired of. The announcement of his death, however, was a shock to friends and to the community.

Deceased was born in Goslar, Germany, on August 9, 1853; his parents, Adolf and Marie Wolff, both preceded him in death. In 1873 he came to America and three years later located in Bedford. For the past 23 years he successfully conducted a cigar store and news stand on Juliana Street.

In 1878 he was united in marriage with Miss Jennie McMullen who, with one daughter, Marie Lena, wife of John R. Dull, survives; also two brothers and three sisters, who reside in Germany. Mr. Wolff was a business man of ability and integrity, a good citizen, and a husband and father whose chief thought was for the welfare of his family. He was an honorary member of Bedford Lodge of Odd Fellows, a member of the Knights of Pythias, Royal Arcanum and Maccabee Lodges, and of Trinity Lutheran Church.

Rev. M. L. Culler conducted the funeral services, which were held at his late home at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Interment in the Bedford Cemetery. The K. of P. Lodge had charge of the service at the grave, members acting as pallbearers. All business places were closed during the funeral.

Mrs. Betty Oppenheimer

At the advanced age of 88 years, two months and two days, Mrs. Betty Oppenheimer passed away at her rooms on Penn Street on Sunday, June 12, having been ill but a few days.

Deceased was born in Hanover, Germany, and was a Miss Rosenthal before her marriage to M. B. Oppenheimer, which occurred in 1855. In November 1872 the family came to this place from Baltimore, and the husband died about 23 years ago on his farm in the northern section of Bedford Township, then known as Oppenheimer. A son, Sely of Pittsburgh, died about four years ago.

Mrs. Harry Griffin

After an illness of over a year, Mrs. Harry Griffin passed away at her home in Rainsburg on Wednesday, June 8, in her 60th year.

Her maiden name was Ressler and she was born in Colerain Township on April 14, 1851. Deceased is survived by her husband, one son Durah, and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. L. F. McDowell of Thomas, W. Va.; Mrs. Belle Bennett of Kansas City, Mo.; John Ressler of Fostoria, O.; Mrs. Mattie Waitman of Ellerslie, Md., and Mrs. Mary Luman of Mansfield, O.

Rev. Clift of the Methodist Protestant Church, of which she was a member, conducted the funeral services which were held at 10 o'clock last Friday morning. Interment in the cemetery adjoining the church.

Miss Ida M. Horner

Miss Ida M. Horner, a former resident of this county, at one time a teacher in the Altoona schools and lately a teacher of domestic science in the Los Angeles schools, died in that city on June 4.

Miss Horner was a graduate of Millersville State Normal School and of Mechanics' Institute of Rochester, N. Y. She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Horner, of Altoona; four sisters, Misses Elizabeth and Anna, of Los Angeles, Cal.; Mrs. L. L. Lush of Oakton, S. Dak., and Mrs. E. M. Pennell of Bedford; and one brother, David L. Horner of Altoona.

Deceased was a member of Christ's Second Lutheran Church of Altoona, and was a former teacher in the Sunday School of the congregation. Interment in Los Angeles, Cal.

JUNE WEDDINGS

Well-Known Business Men of Bedford Among the Number.

June—the month of brides and roses—and Wednesday, June 15, seems to have been especially favored, as three couples pledged themselves "for better or for worse" in Bedford on that day.

A Double Event

At 6 o'clock in the morning at St. Thomas' Catholic Church, Rev. Father William E. Downes united in marriage Frank Beemiller of this place and Miss Marie Drenning of Cumberland Valley. They were attended by John A. Donahoe and Miss Ella Drenning, a sister of the bride.

Mr. Beemiller conducts a tobacco and cigar store at this place and is a son of Joseph Beemiller of South Bedford Township. His bride is a daughter of Mrs. James Drenning and had lately been stenographer in the office of A. L. Little, Esq.

Immediately after the above wedding was solemnized the couple witnessed the union of Albert A. Beemiller, a brother, and Miss Mary M., youngest daughter of Luke Kilcoun of near Bedford. This came as a surprise to the many friends of the young people. After a wedding breakfast at the Union Hotel, the happy couples boarded the 8:40 a. m. train for Pittsburgh, the former to spend a few days visiting and the latter couple leaving later for Wichita, Kan., where they will likely make their future home. The Gazette joins in the congratulations.

Dull-Wolf

Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock a quiet wedding was performed at Trinity Lutheran Parsonage by Rev. M. L. Culler, D. D., the contracting parties being John R. Dull, the well-known young druggist, and Miss Marie Lena Wolff of South Richard Street. Owing to the recent death of the bride's father, the wedding was a very quiet one, the only witnesses being Mrs. Alice Litzenberg and Misses Pearl Lingle and Annie Gilchrist.

The groom is a son of Mrs. Mary Dull of West Pitt Street and has been engaged in the drug business here for several years, coming to this place from Pittsburgh. His bride is a graduate of the Bedford High School and of Irving College, Mechanicsburg. Both are popular young people and have the best wishes of a host of friends. At present they are with the bride's mother at her home, No. 420 South Richard Street.

Ralston-Blackburn

At the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. George Blackburn, in New Paris at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon James A. Ralston of Wilmerding and Miss Lavina A. Blackburn were united in marriage by Rev. G. W. King of Schellsburg. After the wedding a sumptuous dinner was served and the couple departed on a ten days' visit at the National Capital, followed by the best wishes of many friends. They will reside at Wilmerding.

Sturtevant-Irvine

Miss Katherine Irvine, a former Bedford girl, on Wednesday became the wife of Dr. Charles N. Sturtevant of Philadelphia. The ceremony was performed at 7:30 p. m. in the Reformed Church at Mercersburg. The bride is a sister of J. Reed Irvine of this place.

Reed-Rohrer

GRIM FOR GOVERNOR

Democratic Convention Selects Bucks County as Standard-Bearer.

Representatives of the Democratic party of Pennsylvania met in convention at Allentown on Wednesday and nominated the following state ticket: Governor—Webster Grim of Bucks County.

Lieutenant Governor—Samuel B. Price of Scranton.

Secretary of Internal Affairs—John I. Blakeslee of Mauch Chunk.

State Treasurer—Samuel B. Philson of Meyersdale.

The refusal of C. LaRue Munson of Williamsport to run for Governor robbed the proceedings of much of their interest. While the balloting for the gubernatorial nomination was in progress late in the afternoon, there was more or less excitement in order to avoid a roll call the nominations for Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of Internal Affairs and State Treasurer were made by acclamation.

The making of the platform called forth an unusual contest. One had been prepared by State Chairman Dewalt and approved by the State Executive Committee, but when the resolutions committee met, a faction led by Judge James G. Gordon of Philadelphia succeeded in making a few of the planks somewhat more peppery than they were in their original shape and the document as finally agreed upon was declared by the leaders to be a very strong declaration of principles.

The Bedford County delegation voted solidly for Berry for Governor.

Court Notes

Asbury Snyder vs. Mrs. Susie Holsinger, petition to open judgment presented; rule on plaintiff granted.

Altoona Motorists Coming

The first sociability run of the Altoona Motor Club for the summer season will be held on Saturday, when the motorists will run to Bedford, to be the guests of the hotel men's association of that place. The club held a meeting last evening, in the directors' room at the Blair County Trust Building, and decided to accept the invitation of the Bedford landlords.

The automobilists will leave city hall at 9 o'clock promptly and all the members who intend participating are requested to turn out early. The run will be made by the way of Osterburg, and special rates have been offered at the Bedford hotels, for the automobilists who wish to remain there over Sunday. The majority of the party will return Saturday evening, however.—Altoona Times, Thursday.

Miss Josephine Tedrow has resumed her duties as stenographer for H. C. Heckerman after spending some weeks at her home in New Centerville, Somerset County.

$3.50 RECIPE CURES WEAK KIDNEYS FREE

Relieves Urinary and Kidney Troubles, Backache, Straining, Swelling, Etc.

Stops Pain in the Bladder, Kidneys and Back.

Wouldn't it be nice within a week or so to begin to say goodbye forever to the scalding, dribbling, straining, or too frequent passage of urine; the forehead and the back of the head aches; the stitches and pains in the back; the growing muscle weakness; spots before the eyes; yellow skin; sluggish bowels; swollen eyelids or ankles; leg cramps; unnatural short breath; sleeplessness and the despondency?

I have a recipe for these troubles that you can depend on, and if you want to make a quick recovery, you ought to write and get a copy of it. Many a doctor would charge you $3.50 just for writing this prescription, but I have it and will be glad to send it to you entirely free. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, K 321 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send it by return mail in a plain envelope. As you will see when you get it, this recipe contains only pure, harmless remedies, but it has a great healing and pain-conquering power.

It will quickly show its power once you use it, so I think you had better see what it is without delay. I will send you a copy free—you can use it and cure yourself at home.

ACROSS THE CONTINENT

A Trip to Seattle Described by Pennsylvanian.

The following letter to Weaver B. Cessna of Cumberland Valley from his son-in-law, Harry Hummer, of McKeesport will no doubt be interesting to many of our readers. Mr. Hummer is Superintendent of Mills for the Western Steel Corporation and is located at Irondale, 38 miles from Seattle.

Irondale, Wash.

Dear Father:—

After some delay I write you at this time to give you some idea of what a trip from the "Smoky City," or Pittsburgh, across the continent to the Pacific Coast is like.

It is hardly necessary to mention the trip as far as Chicago as your children there have at different times described that part of the journey. However, we leave Pittsburgh on one of the Pennsylvania lines' flyers and find ourselves in Chicago in the evening of the same day, in time to have an hour's visit with John and Florence. Finding them well and prosperous, it was that much easier for us to resume our journey westward.

The Oriental Limited was boarded at 10:15 p. m. and this train is now to be our home for the next three days, or 72 hours, as it runs from Chicago to Seattle in that time with out change of cars. The train is electric lighted, has telephone service, observation car, dining-car, and sleeping-car service, all of the highest grade.

Of course, the porter, with his nice, white, linen suit, spotlessly clean, amused the children when he came in to make up our berths for the evening, and the grown folks felt as thankful, for a day's ride on the train fires one considerably. After a night's refreshing sleep we awaken to find ourselves traveling northward along the banks of that great river, the Mississippi. We soon find our way to the dining car and partake of some Meadow-brook sausages and hot cakes, and were it not for the rumble of the wheels we could easily have imagined we were down on the farm in Cumberland Valley enjoying one of mother's breakfasts.

However, we are nearing St. Paul, the great business city of Minnesota, and must take advantage of the half hour's stop that our train makes there, which was enjoyed very much. The Capitol building was of special interest.

Minneapolis, the twin city of St. Paul, next attracted our attention: here is the home of the flour mills, and as we passed by the Falls of St. Anthony, from which a great deal of the power is derived to operate these mills, it was easy to imagine what a great deal of good the rivers of our country really are.

We enter North Dakota toward evening and by morning are nearly ready to leave this now prosperous state. This being a great wheat growing state we are amazed as we are told that this field contains 100 acres, and the next one several hundred acres, and so they are scattered over miles and miles, these being much larger farms than we see in the east.

And now, at last, comes that great empire of itself, the State of Montana; in it we are to spend 22 hours on a fast trans-continental train running at full speed, so you can reason it is quite large. Cattle raising is the chief industry and from the windows we see herd after herd roaming the vast plains, these herds numbering at times thousands of head. The real cowboys are there also, and now and then at a railroad station a real, live Indian may be seen selling souvenirs of their own make. We also pass through the Rocky Boy Indian Reservation, which has been recently thrown open to settlers by the government, and here from the crowded cities of the East are coming hundreds of people to take a chance in what is pictured as the land of opportunity.

And so I might write on indefinitely of Montana, of its new towns, and of its greatness, but space will not permit, so let us leave it by just touching on the fact that within its boundaries we cross the great Rocky Mountains, where scenery is too grand to describe, and where three huge locomotives seemed to be inadequate to accomplish the work laid out for them.

Morning finds us rolling along through Idaho, very little of which we are permitted to see, as the Great Northern Railroad crosses the state at its narrowest point, the extreme northern. The lumber industry attracted our attention, great mills and logging on the rivers being seen quite frequently.

The State of Washington, which is to be our future home, naturally was looked forward to with interest. The eastern part of the state around Spokane, and especially the Wenatchee Valley, is known the world over as the ideal "Apple Country" and indeed it is, as we have learned by tasting of its luscious fruit.

But we are not to our home yet, as before us stands what was a barrier to man for many a year, those great Cascade Mountains. It remained for James Hill and his associates to work out the Great Northern System, by which the great northwest around Seattle was to be developed, and as we cross these snow-capped mountains, looking down over precipices to valleys thousands of feet below, and even seeing the cars that were wrecked by the avalanche of March 1st at Wellington, we are reminded that brains are required to build railroads. At Wellington a tunnel three miles long is passed through, the train being drawn by electric locomotives instead of steam.

Our train has lost time on the way out and we are 18 hours late, which requires us to spend an extra night on the train, which makes four nights instead of three, as we had expected.

Seattle reached, we still have 38 miles to travel, this by water or Puget Sound to Irondale, the city that is destined to be the place where steel was first made on the Pacific Coast. Having arrived and being located in our home, we have learned to love this grand country. Nature in all her grandeur does her best to make you feel at home and the beautiful waters of the Sound furnish us much enjoyment for launch rides.

Two ranges of mountains lie near us, with their snow-capped peaks always in sight, while we enjoy summer weather. The climate here is ideal, the warmest day on record is 86 degrees, and the coldest 16 degrees above zero. So we feel that our long journey has been worth while.

One of the grandest sights we have here is Mt. Baker, which is 90 miles distant, and can be seen any clear day from our front porch. As I have gone into detail regarding the trip I will not tire you further by describing the new steel plant, but will tell you in a future letter about the first steel making on the coast.

All join in sending love, and trust this missive finds you as it leaves us, all well. Your loving son, Harry Hummer.

DO YOU FEEL LIKE THIS?

VICTORY

How poor his triumph is whose venture pays
Because strong friends of his have willed it so;
Have pulled the strings and schemed in cunning ways
To drag him up or boost him from below.
How evanescent his poor pride must be,
How often he must nurse a vain regret,
How often weakly wish that he were free
To scorn those who have placed him in their debt.
How splendid is his triumph who has won,
Alone, unaided, honor and renown,
Who owes no thanks and rises to his own,
Despite the world's attempts to keep him down.

—S. E. Kiser.

WHAT A SUMMER COLD MAY DO
A summer cold if neglected is just as apt to develop into bronchitis or pneumonia as at any other season. Do not neglect it. Take Foley's Honey and Tar promptly. It loosens the cough, soothes and heals the inflamed air passages, and expels the cold from the system." Ed. D. Heckerman.

THIS IS CERTAIN

The Proof That Bedford Readers Cannot Deny.

What could furnish stronger evidence of the efficiency of any remedy than the test of time? Thousands of people testify that Doan's Kidney Pills cure permanently.

Home endorsement should prove undoubtedly the merit of this remedy. Years ago your friends and neighbors testified to the relief they had derived from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They now confirm their testimonials. They say time has completed the test.

Mrs. Mary J. Corle, 218 E. Pitt St., Bedford, Pa., says: "I was afflicted with backache and other symptoms of kidney trouble for some time and nothing seemed to do any good. The kidney secretions were irregular in passage and my health was badly run down. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I obtained a box at John R. Dull's Drug Store and I had not used them long before I found that they lived up to reputations. I am now feeling better in every way, and my kidneys do not trouble me." (Statement given in October 1907.)

A Second Statement

Mrs. Corle was interviewed on November 13, 1909, and she said: "The relief Doan's Kidney Pills gave me has been lasting and I have had no need of a kidney medicine during the past two years. You are at liberty to continue the publication of my statement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other. June 17-21.

Weather Signs

Rapid changes in the barometer indicate early and marked changes in the weather.

A red sun means rain.

A piece of seaweed hung up will become damp previous to rain.

Clouds flying against the wind indicate rain.

When the leaves of trees curl with the wind from the south rain is approaching.

Red hair curls at the approach of a storm and straightens after it.

Men work harder, eat more and sleep more soundly when the barometer is high than when it is low.

When the perfume of growing flowers is unusually strong rain may be expected.—Home Chat.

GLAD TO RECOMMEND THEM

Mr. E. Weakley, Kokomo, Ind., says: "After taking Foley Kidney Pills, the severe backache left me, my kidneys became stronger, the secretions natural and my bladder no longer pained me. I am glad to recommend Foley Kidney Pills." In a yellow package. Ed. D. Heckerman.

Ancient Marriage Contract

A marriage contract over 2,000 years old, discovered in a tomb near Cairo, Egypt, and now in the collection of the Museum of Art, Toledo, O., has, it is announced, been deciphered by the Egyptologist at the University of Strassburg, Germany. George W. Stevens, director of the Toledo museum, says: "From the translation it is established that in case the wife repudiated the husband she allowed him to take back half of his dower. The Egyptian husband not only received nothing from the bride, but had to put up a bonus to make himself a matrimonial possibility. The document showed that in case of a separation he was allowed by the wife to take but one-third of the moneys they should have acquired during the time they were married."

LOVELY COMPLEXION

A Clear Skin and Bright Eyes Are Easy to Get.

All the beauty creams in creation won't improve your complexion if your stomach is out of order.

Belching of gas and heartburn mean bad food in the stomach. Bad food means bad blood and bad blood means a bad complexion.

Try Mi-o-na stomach tablets for stomach misery, biliousness, dizziness and indigestion. They relieve in a few minutes; they make rich, red blood. They are guaranteed to cure or money back.

Read what a Kansas woman says: "I want to praise Mi-o-na stomach tablets, for I had been doctoring for over a year for stomach trouble and found nothing that did me as much good as Mi-o-na does. I only have the second box and it has relieved all pain in my stomach. For all who suffer from stomach trouble or indigestion Mi-o-na can't be beaten. You can use my name, for Mi-o-na has done a world of good for me when doctors failed."—Mrs. Cordelia B. Mann, 207 E. 11th St., Junction City, Kan. Nov. 1, 1909.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets are sold by druggists everywhere and by F. W. Jordan for 50 cents a large box. Test samples free from Booth's Mi-o-na, Buffalo, N. Y.

William H. Harderode
William Henry Harrison Harderode died suddenly on Sunday, May 29, at his home in Snake Spring Valley, in his 76th year.

Deceased was a member of the Brethren Church and was a highly respected citizen. His wife and three daughters survive: Mrs. Elias Baker, Mrs. Daniel Miller and Mrs. Dorsey Miller; also four brothers and sisters, B. F., David, Mrs. John Henry and Mrs. Samuel Hershberger.

Elders W. S. Ritchey and D. M. Van Horn conducted the funeral services, which were held on May 31 in the Church of the Brethren. Interment at that place.

John K. Kauffman

At Martinsburg on June 8, John K. Kauffman, sexton of Fairview Cemetery, passed away at the age of 73 years, seven months and 14 days.

Deceased was born in this county and was a son of Jacob Kauffman. His wife, who was Miss Fannie Stoner, and three children survive. Interment in Fairview Cemetery.

IN NEW YORK SOCIETY

Beautiful Women of the 400 Who Have Luxuriant Hair.

In gay New York, where women get their ideas from their foreign sisters, the hair tonic called Parisian Sage is in great demand.

Parisian Sage is the discovery of a well known scientist, and he claims most emphatically that it is the only hair preparation that will kill the persistent dandruff germs.

F. W. Jordan guarantees Parisian Sage to cure dandruff in two weeks, to stop falling hair; to make dull, lifeless and colorless hair beautiful and luxuriant; to cure all itching diseases of the scalp, or money back.

The price is only 50 cents a large bottle. Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Woman Who is Nervous

It sounds prosaic and material, but the fact remains that there is nothing so soothing to the "nerves" as hot food. I am aware that many women will declare they cannot eat when nervous, and to those who are high strung and whose digestion is delicate I do not recommend roast beef and boiled potatoes. But I do assert that if nervous folk will drink hot milk or soup they will feel better, because the heat is relaxing and the food draws blood from the head to the stomach, thereby relieving pressure on the brain.

The habit of some women of resorting to stimulants—either tea, coffee or alcohol—when tired is unfortunate, because a false strength is gained for an hour or more and then the reaction is greater than if the stimulant had not been drunk. When a woman is not refreshed after taking hot milk or soup she had better give up physically, because she will almost inevitably be ill, and by going to bed before becoming too exhausted she will recover more rapidly. Nerves overstrained always make the body sick in one way or another, and such illnesses are worse than fevers to combat.

The Conservation of Nature's Resources

Applies as well to our physical state as to material things. C. J. Budlong, Washington, R. I., realized his condition, and took warning before it was too late. He says: "I suffered severely from kidney trouble, the disease being hereditary in our family. I have taken four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy, and now consider myself thoroughly cured. This should be a warning to all not to neglect taking Foley's Kidney Remedy until it is too late." Ed. D. Heckerman.

Horseshadish Bleach

An old-fashioned and harmless bleach for tan and freckles. Scrape a tablespoonful of horseradish into a cupful of sour milk and let it stand for six or eight hours before using. Apply this to the face, neck and hands two or three times a day. Allow it to dry on the skin.

Daily Thought

Never a daisy that grows,
But a mystery guideth the growing;
Never a river that flows,
But a majestic scepters the flowing;
Never a Shakespeare that soared,
But a stronger than he did enfold him;
Never a prophet foretells,
But a mightier seer hath foretold him.

Pear Preserves

How to Can Peaches

Handsome fresh fruits make handsome preserved fruits, only when they're canned whole—without either cutting or crushing.

The jar that has a mouth wide enough to admit all our best domestic fruits—peaches, pears, etc.—whole is the "Atlas E-Z Seal."

Therefore, the best results in preserving are possible only when you use the Atlas E-Z Seal Jar.

Buy these jars of your dealer before the fruit season comes on and be ready to preserve appearance as well as quality.

The Atlas E-Z Seal Jar is extra quality glass; smooth on top and an instant sealer.

RECIPES

Fig Tarts

Whip one-half cupful of rich cream until stiff and sweeten slightly. Add one-half cupful of dried figs, cut with a sharp knife into tiny separate dice, stirring them into the cream and sugar a few at a time and very lightly. Fill puff paste shells with the mixture and dust with cinnamon.

Japanese Fritters

Cut stale bread in strips four by two inches in size. Soak them in a custard flavored with one teaspoonful of vanilla. When well soaked drain, roll in dry bread crumbs and fry in deep fat. Drain and serve with powdered sugar.

Dainty Dish for an Invalid

Beat well a new laid egg and stir into this two tablespoonfuls of milk and one dessertspoonful of flour. Pass this through a fine sieve into a well buttered mold, tie over the top a clean wet piece of cloth; put this into a pot of boiling water and let it simmer for half an hour. Turn out with-out breaking. Lay a piece of butter on top and cover lightly with sugar.

Velvet Sponge Cake

Six eggs; one cupful of flour; one cup of sugar. Beat the yolks and whites of the eggs separately. Divide the sugar into two equal parts, beating thoroughly a half cupful of the sugar into each one of the two bowls of eggs. Then mix together, and stir lightly in the flour. Heat a tin very hot. Butter well. Pour in the mixture, and bake a half hour in a very hot oven.

Minnehaha Cake

One-half cup butter, 1½ cups sugar, three eggs, two heaped cups sifted flour, two rounded teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon orange extract, one-half cup water. Rub the butter in a warm bowl until creamy. Add the sugar gradually and the eggs whole, one at a time. Mix the baking powder with the flour. Add this to the egg mixture, in alternation with the water. Bake in three layers and fill with raisin filling.

SCARED INTO SOUND HEALTH

Mr. B. F. Kelley, Springfield, Ill., writes: "A year ago I began to be troubled with my kidneys and bladder, which grew worse until I became alarmed at my condition. I suffered also with dull headaches and the action of my bladder was annoying and painful. I read of Foley's Kidney Pills and after taking them a few weeks the headaches left me, the action of my bladder was again normal, and I was free of all distress." Ed. D. Heckerman.

EDUCATION

Should Be Prized as a Great Heritage—Ages of Effort.

Much is being said on the subject of Education in these, last days. Some of these discussions are profitable and many serve the double purpose of exhibiting the ignorance and stupidity of the person expressing fantastic theories and fatuous conclusions.

The space devoted to advocating manual industrial and vocational training and teaching of agriculture might lead one to think that something new had been discovered. Every reader of history knows they are as old as the race and formed a part of the basis of intellectual training ages before books were printed. We cannot imagine a time when the thoughtful parents did not have their children study the soil, plants and animals and how to use material to accomplish certain ends. These were subjects of study in the days when they devoted less time to high sounding nomenclature and gave more time to mastering facts and to those exercises which resulted in intellectual power.

This recent flood of words, unassociated with facts or ideas, ignores fundamental conditions and principles. It has always been true that all education deals with things and thought. The study of both is necessary to the development of the student. Books fill too large a place in school work at the present time because teachers know more of them than of nature. It is also true that the present system of education has cost ages of effort of the most thoughtful men and women. It should be prized as a great heritage. We should make changes only as intelligence sustained by experiment call for them. The good should be conserved and the useless eliminated, but it requires knowledge and fine discernment for this winnowing.

It should not be forgotten that the basis of all education is the ability to read whatever is presented for interpretation. Then the child must have a system of enumeration. In the meantime he must acquire a medium of expressing his desire and thought. He should also be on speaking terms with the human and physical worlds of which he is a part. Books and things are the two controlling factors in his training. If either is ignored the child suffers. The proportion of each needed by any student depends somewhat on the individual, his aptitudes and his future career. No one can say with any pretence of wisdom, how any given child should be served when speaking of the mass. Only the expert is prepared to prescribe for the individual.

Still there are certain fundamental facts that may be considered as settled. Among these are the following: The purpose of education is to give life and give it abundantly. If one knows only of his particular work he is dwarfed. That instruction is best which so trains the powers that the student may enjoy life and give joy to others, and do his work in such a way as to make it a means of grace to himself and his fellows.

Our present school system embodies much of great value and which is to endure because of its fitness to be of service. It also includes not a little that should be eliminated and there is need of additions to meet the needs of our advancing civilization. These changes should be made by those who have a personal knowledge of children and sane conceptions of the training of youth. They must not be made by those who are wanting in the capacity for those relations which fit one for this difficult task. It must not be left for those peripatetic reformers who "rely on their imaginations for their facts and their memory for their wit." These opaque illuminators are fertile in words but are as sterile guides in training children as they have proved unprofitable exploiters of other people's farms.

Nature cannot be helpfully taught in the schools until the teachers have a broad and accurate knowledge of the subject. It must include both a study of the thing and books, and must be continued until the teacher has a familiar knowledge of facts and a clear understanding of principles. One may teach a book and know but little of its contents. To give instruction as to things the information must be definite. When we want this quality of teaching we must appropriate more money for schools. If we want a better service we must pay higher salaries for teachers. That it is an investment which will pay large dividends there can be no question. —from address of Master Stetson, State Grange of Maine, published in Pennsylvania School Journal.

GAPES IN CHICKENS

Prof. Surface Gives Cure—Carbolic Acid Fumes.

A prominent Clarion County farmer wrote to Prof. H. A. Surface, State Zoologist, Pennsylvania, saying: "My neighbor's chicks are all dying with gapes, and I have 166 which I would like to save. Can you tell me what to do for them, and also advise a remedy for lice on little chicks?"

The reply of Prof. Surface was as follows:

"Replying to your inquiry concerning gapes in chicks, I can say that this disease is due to little worms in the windpipe, which come from the chicks eating earth-worms. If they are never allowed on the ground where there are earth-worms, they will not get the gapes. For example, if you can keep them on the barn floor, or on soil well covered with lime or ashes, they will be free from this disease; but, of course, they do much better if allowed to run out, especially during nice weather.

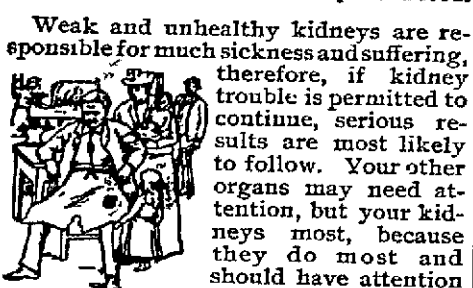

"Within the earth-worm the little gape worm is encysted, just as the parasitic worm causing the human disease known as Trichinosis is encysted in the flesh of pork and develops when eaten by a person. In the same way does this little gape worm remain in the earth-worm until eaten by the fowl or chick, when it develops into the gape worm, causing the disease which indicates its presence.

"A successful physician has recommended to me to destroy the pest by putting the chicks into a box and dropping a few drops of carbolic acid on hot bricks, closing the box, and let the chicks breathe the fumes a few minutes. Repeat treatment once or twice. There is, of course, danger of overdoing this by making the fumes too strong, if one is not careful.

"One simple remedy which I have seen successfully used this spring is common kerosene or lamp oil applied by dipping the tip of a feather into it, and inserting it into the windpipe of the chick. The shaft of the feather should be stripped of its side barbs and only the tip remain to act as a soft feather brush. By opening the mouth of the chick and pulling the tongue slightly, the opening in the windpipe is to be seen, and the feather can be inserted. This apparently does not cause much pain, and the operation is soon finished. It appears that one touch of the oil against the gape worm is enough to kill it, even though it is not removed with the feather at the time of treatment. I saw a large number of chicks so treated this spring and everyone recovered after treatment. This appears to me to be more certain, and even more humane, than to attempt to remove with a horse hair loop, which is commonly used, inserted in the windpipe.

"For lice on little chicks I recommend a drop of grease on the head and under the wing. Fresh lard, without salt, is the best. Do not use much. Only a slight drop or touch is enough, and put a little under the wings of the mother hen."

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work. Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for much sickness and suffering, therefore, if kidney trouble is permitted to continue, serious results are most likely to follow. Your other organs may need attention, but your kidneys are most important, because they do most and should have attention first. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. A trial will convince you of its great merit.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest because its remarkable health restoring properties have been proven in thousands of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

Shoes

The better the shoes, it seems, the less the people walk. American shoe manufacturers have made an epoch in commerce, for American shoes are copied and imitated all over the civilized world as the best output of all nations. Yet the typical American man will not walk and so is the easiest man on his shoes that ever lived. —New York Press.

Baby won't suffer five minutes with croup if you apply Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil at once. It acts like magic.

Why Take Alcohol?

Are you thin, pale, easily tired, lack your usual vigor and strength? Then your digestion must be poor, your blood thin, your nerves weak. You need a tonic and alternative. You need Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the only Sarsaparilla entirely free from alcohol. We believe your doctor would endorse these statements, or we would not make them. Ask him and find out. Follow his advice. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

The endorsement of your doctor will certainly greatly increase your confidence in Ayer's Pills as a family laxative. Liver pills. All vegetable. Ask your doctor about them.

WORTH KNOWING

When using stale bread for puddings always soak it in a cold liquid. Bread that has been soaked in cold milk or water is light and crumbly, whereas that soaked in hot liquid is heavy.

The best way to extract the juice from an onion, when needed for flavoring, is to cut a slice from the root end of the onion, remove the outer skin and press onion on a coarse grater, using a rotary motion.

Stockings should not be washed in the same water which has been used in washing white clothes, as they are apt in that case to become covered with lint.

A mirror should never be hung where it will be in the direct rays of the sun or exposed to any intense heat of a fire or stove. Both these conditions have a most disastrous effect on the mercury, and in time will completely spoil the mirror.

If meat used for soup is cut into small pieces more nutriment will be obtained.

To peel tomatoes without scalding, rub them backward with the blunt edge of a knife.

In selecting beef, the pieces which are well mottled with fat will be found the richest and juiciest.

A cupful of liquid yeast is equivalent to half a compressed yeast cake or a whole dry yeast cake.

The value of oatmeal can hardly be overestimated. A pound of oatmeal, in the form of either porridge or cakes, is worth as a nutriment, exactly six pounds of white flour. It is fattening as well as strengthening as it contains both starch and proteid.

To make a cup of coffee almost as nourishing as a meal stir into it an egg well beaten. First beat the egg in the cup, add a little cream and then the sugar, and lastly the coffee poured in gradually. When adding the coffee, beat constantly with a small egg beater.

Impure blood runs you down—makes you an easy victim for organic diseases. Burdock Blood Bitters purifies the blood—cures the cause—builds you up.

Mosses

Beside the woodland brook,
Deep in the ferny fringes,
There is an ancient sylvan book
With silver clasp and hinges.

On pages gray and stained,
By wind and weather smitten,
Through years the records have remained
As fresh as when first written.

Green are the lyric themes
Upon the granite pages,
Repeating the delights and dreams
Of many bygone ages.

Ah, wonder-poet Time,
Your happy child the brook is;
She turns to music every rhyme,
And hers this precious book is!

—Frank Dempster Sherman.

THOUGHTS BY THE WAY

Whenever you find humor, you find pathos close by its side.—Whipple.

Art, glory, freedom, 'fail, but nature still is fair.—Byron.

The awful shadow of some unseen power floats, though unseen, among us.—Shelley.

When the fight begins within himself a man's worth something.—Browning.

To rule oneself is in reality the greatest triumph.—Lord Avebury.

It takes a soul to move a body; it takes a high-souled man to move the masses.—E. B. Browning.

The virtue of the soul does not consist in flying high, but in walking orderly.—Montague.

A man should never be ashamed to own he has been in the wrong, which is but saying, in other words, that he is wiser today than he was yesterday.—Pope.

Sunshine is delicious, rain is refreshing, wind braces up, snow is exhilarating; there is really no such thing as bad weather, only different kinds of good weather.—John Ruskin.

Ex-President Elliot of Harvard once said that all that was necessary to happiness was good health, a clear conscience and a capacity for appreciation.

Two gifts there are of value far
Beyond great wealth or lands.
The gifts are these: The eye that sees,
The heart that Understands.

—William Patterson White.

How often a man has cause to return thanks for enthusiasms of his friends! They are the little fountains that run down from the hills to refresh the mental desert of the despondent.—Henry Van Dyke.

Count that day lost,
Whose low descending sun
Views from thy hand
No worthy action done.

Foley's Kidney Remedy may be given to children with admirable results. It does away with bed wetting, and is also recommended for use after measles and scarlet fever. Ed. D. Heckerman.

The Happy Girl

No trait of a girl's character is more prized than a sweet and happy disposition. It makes the home life bright, it smooths away the little roughnesses, and it is like a ray of sunshine that brightens the darkest corners and drives away discontent and gloom. The happy girl makes the happy and contented wife, who will bring her girlhood's endearing qualities to make fresh sunshine in her new home.—Home Notes.

Bride-to-be Eloped

Altoona, June 15.—Marion Steele of Altoona was to have married Miss Jeannette Hoover, daughter of Frank Hoover, a wealthy farmer of Piney Creek, tomorrow but there will be no wedding.

Yesterday morning at 3 o'clock Miss Hoover went away with Henry Amick, an employee of the Hoovers. Captain Clark, chief of police of Altoona, has been asked to find them. Amick is alleged to have a wife and four children living at St. Clairsville, Bedford County. Amick took the girl from the house. A note to her mother read:

"Dear Mother:—I had no thought of doing this; I had to do it or die. I hope I have not seen your face for the last time. May God comfort you."

Amick wrote a note promising to be good to the girl. They came to Altoona, but here trace of them was lost. The police are investigating. The girl's parents believe she has been abducted by Amick. Amick built a house for the Hoovers last year, but was never known to show special affection for the girl.

Will Work for Matt

The Prohibition Club of Saxton and Liberty Township held a very enthusiastic meeting last Friday evening. Plans were laid for a vigorous campaign throughout the county in favor of John T. Matt for the Legislature. At the primaries, Mr. Matt polled 45 votes on the Prohibition ticket in Saxton and 14 in Liberty Township. As there was no contest, many Prohibitionists did not go to the polls. As the issue seems to be fairly drawn in this county, there seems no reason why the Prohibition vote cannot be given in all its strength to Mr. Matt. Last year, under the name of the Saxton Temperance Society, much was accomplished toward the election of Mr. Huff but this year, as a regularly organized political club, the same workers hope to accomplish even greater things. Saxton, June 13, 1910.

Had Seven Gallons Left

Messrs Leachman & Edelin, Grafton, W. Va, had been selling a paint, which they thought well of; and this had occurred.

They had sold a customer 18 gallons of it to paint his house. A few years later, they sold the same man Devco lead-and-zinc the same number of gallons to paint the same house. He had 7 gallons left.

The point of the tale is: 11 gallons Devco paints an 18-gallon house.

Of course, that isn't all.

Why does 11 gallons Devco go as far as 18 gallons of other paint? Because it is all paint, all true, no sham, and full measure.

But that isn't all. Devco lasts longer. No, no; you haven't got to wait ten years to find that out. Ten thousand people know it. They think a heap of Devco. There's no difficulty in showing our townspeople what to expect of Devco. $10 will paint a $15 house; and the paint'll last twice as long.

Bedford Countians Buncoed

W. W. Deibaugh and Adam C. Faupel, of Mann's Choice, went to Philadelphia last week to purchase horses and as a result are $150 poorer but richer in experience.

Deibaugh purchased a bay mare for $150, while Faupel invested $150 in a bay and $225 in a sorrel team. Starting for home the men rode the sorrels, leading the others, and when about six miles out of the city they found that the animals were unable to travel. Returning to the city, the men appealed to the S. P. C. A. and the case was investigated.

Locating the horse dealer, a bargain was struck and as a result the animals were returned at a loss of $150. The men returned home, sadder and wiser, vowing they had seen the last of "wicked" Philadelphia.

Will Educate Foresters

Harrisburg, June 14.—State Forestry Commissioner Robert S. Conklin will conduct examinations for twelve scholarships in the State Forestry Academy at Mt. Alto on July 12 and 13. The examinations will be held in the Harrisburg High School and the twelve highest applicants will be educated as foresters by the state.

REUNION OF FIFTY-FIFTH

Held Last Week at State Capital—
Next Year at Reading.

The nineteenth annual reunion of the 55th Pa. Regimental Association was held in the Hall of the National Hotel in Harrisburg on Wednesday, June 8. The assembly bugle call was sounded by Miss Ruth Fischler of Harrisburg and the meeting was opened with prayer by the Chaplain, Joseph L. Leonard, also of that city.

The address of welcome was delivered by Hon. William F. Tunis in behalf of the Mayor, who could not be present. Mr. Tunis is a son of Jordan Tunis, one of the old members of Co. G, 55th Regt. The address of welcome was responded to by the President, Ed. Looker, in a few well-chosen words. The business meeting was then held and the Secretary's and Treasurer's reports were read and approved.

The following officers for the ensuing year were elected: President, John H. Fahnenback of Bernville; Vice Presidents, John G. Mohn of Reading, and Capt. W. W. Moore of Wrightsville; Secretary and Treasurer, Capt. Josiah Hissong; Assistant Secretary, Mrs. S. J. Telford, Indiana; Chaplain, Joseph L. Leonard, Harrisburg. Reading was chosen as the next place to hold the reunion in 1911, the date to be arranged by the official board.

Twelve deaths were reported since October 20, 1909, as follows: Samuel Cain, Co. G; Capt. P. F. Hodge, A; Isaac Berniser, B; Capt. Hez. Hammer, K; Benj. F. Lundy, G; Harrison and Frank Overdork, F; William Brown, A; M. D. Sprowl, F; George W. Ruby, B; George Burkhardt, B; Samuel Clark, C.

Miss Ruth Fischler was then introduced, who gave us all the old bugle calls, from reveille to taps, in a manner that thrilled the old comrades. Frank H. Hoy, Sr., gave a monologue and German impersonations which were the hit of the afternoon. Rev. G. E. Lewis of the First Baptist Church was then introduced, who gave the old boys a ringing address. Capt. W. W. Moore, George Warden, a son of a late member of Co. G., Mrs. S. J. Telford, Mrs. M. C. Watson, J. L. Leonard, W. S. Conrad, and Josiah Hissong, also spoke.

At 5 o'clock the comrades and honorary members were invited and escorted to the dining room of the hotel, where a grand banquet was spread and was partaken of by the following persons: Co. A; Ed. Fry, John T. Fry, Augustus Shaffner, Cornelius Conrad, Robert Dougherty, James A. Mills, David Bender; Co. B; George D. Fahnenback, Peter Grimes, Elijah Smith, John G. Mohn, Richard Mohn, John A. Matthews; Co. C; Joseph L. Etlia; Co. E; Capt. W. W. Moore; Co. F; D. S. Kerr, Alexander Orr; Co. G; William H. Kromer, Ed. Looker, Isaac Raudabaugh, J. L. Leonard, James Sweger, Charles Sheets, Abram Boak, Charles Lukens; Co. H; Hiram Matthews, Josiah Hissong, John Z. Deck, William Pfeil, W. W. Feight, William Slick, E. G. Fisher; Co. I; W. S. Conrad; Co. K; R. H. Freeburn, Daniel Hagerty; the following honorary members: Mrs. Elijah Smith, Catharine Meeks, Mrs. A. Boak, Mrs. Elizabeth Warden, Mrs. W. W. Feight, Mrs. Samuel Shaffer, Mrs. W. W. Moore, W. W. Moore, Jr., Elias H. Moore, Mrs. J. D. Fahnenback, Mrs. Peter Grimes, Miss Mamie Grimes, Mrs. S. J. Telford, Mrs. Juliet White Watson, Miss Maidee Watson, Capt. R. W. Watson, Maj. J. Herman Watson, Mark Watson, S. J. Telford, Mrs. J. L. Leonard, Sarah A. Dougherty, Charles Fry, Mrs. J. L. Etlia.

On motion of Capt. Josiah Hissong, a unanimous vote of thanks was given the committee on arrangements and all others taking part in the preparations for giving the 55th Pa. Regimental Association and its friends such a royal good time.

Resolutions of Respect

At a meeting of the Bedford Board of Trade held in the Board of Trade room last Monday evening the following resolution was adopted:

Whereas, One of our members and a prominent business man of our town, Mr. Rudolf Wolff, has been called from the activities of life to the Great Beyond, be it

Resolved, That the Bedford Board of Trade voices its sincere regret at his sudden departure from earthly scenes, and tenders its profound sympathy to the bereaved family of our departed brother and friend; and

Resolved, That the Board hereby requests the business men of Bedford to close their places of business from 2 to 3 o'clock p. m., Tuesday, June 14, the hour of the funeral, as a mark of respect and appreciation of one who was ever ready to aid in the promotion of any worthy cause in our community; and

Resolved, That in his death our community has lost a useful citizen, one whose sterling honesty was expressed in his everyday life and business career, and whose integrity of conduct was never questioned;

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be presented by the Secretary of the Board to the members of the bereaved family, that they be spread upon the minutes of the Board of Trade, and be published in the Bedford papers.

Grange Meeting

Bedford County Pomona Grange, No. 24, P. of H., met in Providence Grange Hall at Mench on June 9 at 2 o'clock p. m. A very interesting session was held and many points of interest discussed. Lecturer of State Grange, E. B. Dorsett of Mansfield, Tioga County, was present and explained the unwritten work of the Grange and in the evening delivered a very instructive and interesting lecture to the farmers and others. Excellent music was rendered by the Grange. A very pleasant time was had, and all enjoyed the meeting, which was certainly profitable to all present.

D. T. Lutz, Deputy.

A Surprise Party

The home of Adam F. Diehl in Bedford Township was the scene of a happy surprise last Friday, it being the fifty-eighth anniversary of his birth. Early in the morning Mr. Diehl was summoned to Bedford and on his return home, about half-past eleven, to his great surprise there were present to greet him the following persons: D. F. Koontz, wife and granddaughter Lucile, A. J. Diehl and wife, of Friend's Cove; Nicholas Diehl and wife, Ross Diehl, wife and daughter Elizabeth, of Bedford; Calvin Diehl and wife, Samuel T. Diehl, wife and daughter Mildred, Edgar Diehl and wife, Nevin Diehl, wife and daughter Elizabeth, Adam F. Diehl, Misses Mary, Hattie and Mabel Diehl, Miss Sue Reed, William W. Devore, of Bedford Township, and Joseph Watts of State Line.

The guests were taken to the dining room and seated around a table groaning under its weight of dainties prepared by his good wife and daughters. After partaking of this sumptuous repast the afternoon was spent in pleasant conversation, and vocal and instrumental music. The day being far spent the guests departed for their homes, wishing Mr. Diehl the return of many more birthdays.

Point

June 14—Your correspondent left home Monday morning for Harrisburg over the new railroad so lately opened to the public. The great improvements that are being made along the line of this road from Bedford to Altoona are wonderful and the amount of travel and traffic over the road will require the road to be double-tracked. It is talked in Altoona that the branch from Fishertown Station via Springhope, Point, Schellsburg and Mann's Choice will be made in the near future for use as a freight road. I arrived home from Harrisburg on Friday, well pleased with my trip.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Smith arrived from Johnstown on Saturday, where they had been visiting friends.

Master Robert Fetter of Osterburg is a guest of his grandfather, R. C. Smith.

Master Frank Hissong of Windber is a welcome guest of the family of your correspondent.

Harry Studebaker of Windber is a guest of his uncle, Major George A. Dull.

Miss Cora Shaffer has been visiting among friends at Hollidaysburg, Duncansville and other places for the last four weeks. Avery Miller and Misses Vinie Bisel and Ada Shaffer went to Hollidaysburg to meet and come home with Miss Cora, who arrived Sunday evening.

Daniel Dibert sold two valuable horses last Thursday.

Will Imber of Mann's Choice made a business trip to this place last Saturday.

Mrs. George Smith and son, of Wolfburg, spent several days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Imber.

Mrs. George Ickes of Meyersdale, who spent several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Imber, returned home Sunday.

Mrs. Job Imber and daughter Pauline were visitors of Dr. C. C. Dibert and family at Buffalo Mills over Sunday.

Humphrey Deibert of Philadelphia will give a recital on Paul Lawrence Dunbar in the school house Friday evening, June 24. The proceeds will be used towards purchasing a bell for the new Reformed Church which will be dedicated in the fall. This will be an evening of pleasure for all who attend.

When his policy matures, every policy-holder wishes he had taken more insurance. If he dies meanwhile, his family will wish he had taken more. Life insurance is a simple matter of Privilege and Duty. You acquire the saving habit and lay by for yourself against the day of stress and storm. That is Privilege. You also shut the home door against Want when you are taken. That is Duty.

Let me do you a great service by explaining Life Insurance.

EYE-SIGHT SPECIALIST

OF PITTSBURGH, PA.

Will be at the Waverly Hotel, Bedford, Pa.

TWO DAYS ONLY

Wednesday & Thursday, June 22 & 23

Giving Free Examinations of the Eyes. Overcoming headaches, nervousness and all defective vision. No drops or drugs used.

Prices from $2.00 to $8.00

All lenses guaranteed for two years. We Do Not Peddle. Please call at Hotel.

Dr. Helman is not a stranger to the people of Bedford County, having made regular trips here, once every month, at the Bedford House for over three years and has fitted 611 people in that time. All lenses are guaranteed for two years and changed within that time, free of charge without question. Visits will be made every month at Waverly Hotel.

SCIENTIFIC FITTING

The scientific fitting of glasses, especially in overcoming headache, nervousness, and other conditions caused by eye-strain, cannot be conducted on a mercantile basis for the reason that it requires more than a mere pair of glasses of the most ordinary make to subdue the trouble. The eye specialist who takes cases of this kind must necessarily not only know how to fit them properly, but he must know what is required in the future as regards to making proper changes and how to advise the wearing of glasses for the many different defects, etc. All these are essential and yet many intelligent people fail to understand why one pair of glasses should cost more than another.

SYMPTOMS OF EYE STRAIN

Comfortable eyes are what you are looking for, but to get eye comfort you must go to one versed in the science of refraction (which means, in other words, just how the light should enter the eye and in what proportion.) You may be certain that your eyes need immediate attention when continuous looking at small objects tires them; when you cannot read long without discomfort; when you must hold your book less than twelve inches from your face, or when your arms seem to require lengthening; when you habitually frown or partly close the eyes to see objects more distinctly; when things grow indistinct, or swim before your eyes; when your eyes ache, smart or water; eyelids become inflamed, or when pains occur in the eye-ball, temples or forehead; when you have constant recurring headaches or unaccountable nervous derangements.

St. Clairsville

June 15—Albert Cobler, who works in Hollidaysburg, was home on Sunday.

Miss Mayme Crissman of near Bedford spent Sunday in our town.

Misses Blanche and Grace Kegarise, of New Enterprise, were guests of Misses Lillie Roudabush and Mayme Getsler last Sunday.

The Children's Day services in the Lutheran Church Sunday morning were impressive and instructive. An elaborate program was rendered before an appreciative audience. The decorations consisted of flowers and a rainbow, underneath which was the Lord's Prayer, making a fine display. Owing to the inclement weather the attendance was not as large as it otherwise would have been. The offerings were for the Orphans' Home at Loysville.

The missionary program at Imber last Sunday evening was interesting.

Mrs. Mary Catherine Smeltzer, a highly respected lady of this place, died very suddenly Tuesday morning about 8:30 o'clock, aged 54 years, six months and 18 days and her death was quite a shock to the community. She was a faithful member of the Reformed Church. Mrs. Smeltzer was born near Osterburg on November 27, 1856. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Crissman was blessed by the arrival of a girl baby Sunday.

THE SCHOOL CODE

To Be Redrafted and Presented at Next Session of Legislature.

The contest over the school code, which raged throughout the 1909 session of the Pennsylvania Legislature, is to be fought all over again next winter, when a new codification of the school laws of the state, prepared by the same commission, will be presented to the Legislature.

Members of the School Code Commission, by invitation of the newly formed State Educational Alliance, met at the capitol recently and began preparations for redrafting the school code. The intention is to have the draft ready to be published in the July number of the official Pennsylvania School Journal, so the people will have six months to discuss its provisions before the Legislature meets.

The following members of the School Code Commission attended the recent meeting at Harrisburg: Dr. Nathan C. Schaeffer of Lancaster, State Superintendent of Public Instruction; G. W. Phillips of West Chester, John S. Rilling of Erie, William Lauder of Riddlesburg and John M. Coughlin of Wilkes-Barre.

The State Educational Alliance was formed at the state capital by 50 men and women, representing school boards, civic associations and societies in all parts of the state, to secure uniformity in efforts for the advancement of educational laws.

The conference resulting in the formation of the alliance was called by Mrs. E. W. Biddle of Carlisle, President of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women, which has a membership of 20,000 women in this state. The attendance was representative of every section, prominent educators and lawyers being present.

These officers were chosen: President—Dr. M. G. Brumbaugh, Philadelphia.

Vice Presidents—Charles S. Foos, Reading; Mrs. E. W. Biddle, Carlisle; Miss Clarissa A. Moffatt, Pittsburg; Clyde C. Hill, Northeast.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. A. Duncan Yocum, Chester.

Recording Secretary—Dr. J. R. Flickinger, Lock Haven.

Superintendent James B. Coughlin of Wilkes-Barre criticised Philadelphia, declaring that the City of Brotherly Love should "join the union and not expect to be a superior city to which the common laws governing education should not apply, but should help the whole state to get better school laws."

Alexander Colesberry of the Philadelphia Board of Education, replied that the conditions necessitated different laws for Philadelphia. He said, however, the present laws were not what they should be.

Many prominent speakers were present and various state organizations represented.

Campmeeting

The Walnut Grove Campmeeting Association will meet at Maddersville June 27 at 8 p. m. The campmeeting will be held August 5 to 14. Indications point to the largest camp in its history. Rooms and tents are for rent. Some of the best speakers of the East Pennsylvania Eldership will be present. Rev. F. W. McGuire of Saxton is general manager and will give all needed information.

I thoroughly believe in the practice of making children commit to memory many pieces of poetry and prose, largely as a mental discipline of high value, but also as an aid to literary appreciation. I should like to have a fine reader spend his time going from school to school, reciting some of the world's best literature, with appropriate comments. It would do more than all the textbooks.—Rogers.

The common problem, yours, every one's, mine, is—not to fancy what more fair in life, Provided it could be—but finding first What may be, then find how to make it fair.

—Robert Browning.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY HINTS

In massaging wrinkles use the tips of the fingers and thumb, always working across the line; never follow the lines of the creases.

Rubbing the elbows with rough salt and rinsing with cold water often helps to make them smooth and takes away that unpleasant redness with which some are afflicted.

A good cure for slight headache is to take a facial bath of cold water into which a few drops of sweet spirits of ammonia have been dropped. This has a most refreshing and invigorating effect.

When the face has been exposed to severe winds and the skin burns, water should not be used if honey preparations are applied; at such times they must be adapted to an after bath of water.

By putting your wrists under a stream of cool running water you will obtain relief from the heat almost at once. Bathing the temples with cool water is a great comfort when one is overheated.

The teeth should be brushed at the morning toilet, and always at night just before retiring, because then the process of decay is more constant than at any other time, on account of decomposing food which may be lodged in the interstices.

Nothing gives more permanent relief to overworked eyes than to get into the habit of closing them for an instant many times a day.

If your feet ache after dancing soak them before you get into bed in hot bay salt and water, dry them and rub briskly, especially about the ankles, with a rough towel.

If the cuticle around the nails seems dry and stiff and there is a tendency to hang-nails, rub in well a little vaseline or cold cream every night before going to bed.

Olive oil for internal use is best taken in the form of salad dressing. Olive oil is an excellent food for the thin, worrying type of woman and is quite easily digested.

There will be no scar from a burn that is treated immediately with olive oil mixed with the white of an egg. The oil and egg should be in equal quantities and the wound should be at once covered with a piece of linen. Bicarbonate of soda—ordinary baking soda—is also excellent for a burn, but it, too, should be applied at once.

A Democratic Preacher

A good story is told of a "country gentleman" who, for the first time, heard an Episcopal clergyman preach. He had read much of the aristocracy and pride of the church, and when he returned home he was asked if the people were "stuck up." "Pshaw, no!" replied he. "Why, the minister actually preached in his shirt sleeves."—Judge.

Stevenson's Morning Prayer

The day returns and brings us the petty round of irritating concerns and duties. Help us to play the man and perform them with laughter and kind faces. Let cheerfulness abound with industry. Give us to go blithely on our business all this day, bring us to our resting beds weary and content and undishonored, and grant us in the end the gift of sleep.

For Perfect Health

In order to support life and growth and to maintain the strength and efficiency of the human body, some things are absolutely necessary. Among these, named perhaps in order of importance, are: Pure air, wholesome, nutritious food, unbroken sleep and some form of muscular exercise.

Cook in Comfort

You no longer need wear yourself out with the weakening heat of an intensely hot kitchen. You can cook in comfort. Here is a stove that gives no outside heat. All its heat is concentrated at the burners. An intense blue flame (hotter than either white or red) is thrown upwards but not around. All the heat is utilized in cooking—none in outside heating.

New Perfection Oil Cook-stove

entirely removes the discomfort of cooking. Apply a match and immediately the stove is ready. Instantly an intense heat is projected upwards against the pot, pan, kettle or boiler, and yet there is no surrounding heat—no smell—no smoke.

Caution Note: Be sure you get this stove—see that the name-plate reads "New Perfection."

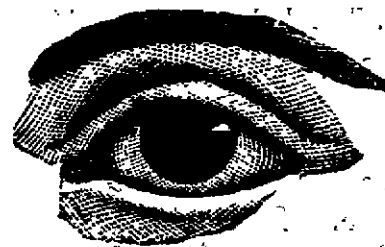

The Atlantic Refining Company (Incorporated)

Why? Because The New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove is scientifically and practically perfect. You cannot use too much wick—it is automatically controlled. You get the maximum heat—no smoke. The burner is simple. One wipe with a cloth cleans it—consequently there is no smell.

The New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove is wonderful for year-round use, but especially in summer. Its heat operates upward to pan, pot, or kettle, but not beyond or around. It is useless for heating a room.

It has a Cabinet Top with shelf for keeping plates and food hot. It has long turquoise-blue enamel chimneys. The nickel finish, with the bright blue of the chimneys, makes the stove ornamental and attractive. Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet.

JUNE ON THE GREAT LAKES

Restful, delightful, interesting, and instructive, there is no trip like that on the Great Lakes, those inland seas which form the border line between the United States and Canada. And June is one of the most charming months in the year in which to take the trip.

For comfort the fine passenger steamships of the Anchor Line have no superiors. As well-appointed as the palatial ocean greyhounds which plow the Atlantic, their schedule allows sufficient time at all stopping places to enable the traveler to see something of the great lake cities and to view in daylight the most distinctive sights of the lakes, and the scenery which frames them.

The trip through the Detroit River, and through Lake St. Clair, with its great ship canal in the middle of the lake, thence through Lake Huron, the locking of the steamer through the great locks at the Soo, and the passage of the Portage Entry, lake and canal, across the upper end of Michigan are novel and interesting features.

The voyage from Buffalo to Duluth covers over eleven hundred miles in the five days' journey. Leaving Buffalo, the steamships Juniata, Tionesta and Octorara make stops at Erie, Cleveland, Detroit, Mackinac Island, the Soo, Marquette, Houghton and Hancock, and Duluth.

The 1910 season opened on May 31, when the Steamer Tionesta made her first sailing from Buffalo.

The Anchor Line is the Great Lake Annex of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and the service measures up to the high standard set by the "Standard Railroad of America."

An illustrated folder, giving sailing dates of steamers, rates of fare, and other information is in course of preparation, and may be obtained when ready from any Pennsylvania Railroad Ticket Agent, who is also prepared to book passengers who may desire to take this trip through the Great Lakes and back.

Lesson XII.—Second Quarter, For June 19, 1910.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Matt. xiii, 1-9, 18-23—Memory Verse, 23—Golden Text, Jas. i, 21—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

We step back quite a bit in the order of events to take up this and the next two lessons on the "Mysteries of the Kingdom," but perhaps it does not matter much how we step if only we step into the light and keep step with our blessed Lord in His thoughts and purposes. Although verses 10 to 17 are not included in our lesson we must look at them, as there we find the reason why He taught in parables. The rulers having determined to kill Him (xii, 14) our lesson chapter opens with the statement that the same day He went out of the house and sat by the seaside. A simple statement of a fact, but very suggestive of another fact—that He was about to go out from the house of Israel and begin to gather from the sea of nations another people during this age who will reign with Him in the next or kingdom age (Matt. xxiii, 37-39; Acts vi, 14-18).

When the disciples asked Him why He taught in parables, His reply was, "Because it is given unto you to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given." And then He quoted from Isa. vi the prophecy concerning this blindness. The kingdom of God, or of heaven, was no mystery, for it was plainly revealed in all the Old Testament. The sufferings and glory of the Messiah were all fully revealed, but that there should be a long period between the sufferings and the glory, that the kingdom would be at hand and then postponed for a whole age, this was not revealed until by the Lord in these parables, and later to and by Paul. A concordance will enable any one to see that the word "mystery" is used of God in Christ, Christ in His people, the blindness of Israel, the resurrection of the just, the development of iniquity, the end of this age. This whole age between the rejection of Christ and His coming again in glory is the time of the mysteries of the kingdom which our Lord sets forth in these seven parables of this chapter. Mark and Luke each give the first one—the parable of the sower—the understanding of which seems all important, for our Lord said when asked for its significance, "Know ye not this parable? And how, then, will ye know all parables?" (Mark iv.)

From our next lesson we learn that the field is the world (verse 38), and we must bear in mind that it is a world lying in the wicked one and that he is the god of it. It is an evil age and ever growing worse as far as the fear of God is concerned (I John v, 19; II Cor. iv, 4; Gal. i, 4; Rom. xii, 1, 2; II Tim. iii, 1-5). Alongside of unparalleled progress on many lines there is unparalleled iniquity, unbelief, rejection of the Bible as the word of God and of the deity of Christ and of His atonement for sin. We are nowhere taught to expect any improvement in these matters during this age but we are faithfully to sow the seed of the word of God everywhere and expect just what we are taught in this parable. Some set their hearts on certain results and say we must have this or that, we must have fifty or a hundred conversions, we must have a revival, the town must be taken for God, etc. Happier are those who are in harmony with the Lord and who rest on His assurance that His word will accomplish that which He pleases (Isa. lv, 11). It is incorruptible seed, the word of life, and He has promised to watch over it (I Pet. i, 23; Acts v, 20; Jer. i, 12, R. V.). The hearts of men are the soil, and some are beaten so hard by the going to and fro of the things of this life that the seed can scarce find entrance, and the devil is always watching to catch it away lest they should believe and be saved. Other hearts are hard within, rocky hearts, but with enough soft soil to receive the seed. Such appear to enjoy the word; they say it does them good, they receive it gladly, but they are easily offended, cannot stand any persecution.

In others the soil is good enough to grow thorns and the seed does find a lodging, and it grows, but the thorns grow so fast that there is no fruit. The cares and pleasures of this life, the deceitfulness of riches, the lusts of other things, choke the word, and no fruit is brought to perfection. In the first two kinds of soil there is no indication of salvation. I am inclined to believe that this third kind of soil indicates a possibility of salvation, but saved as by fire (I Cor. iii, 14, 15). The fourth kind of soil is good by the grace of God. There is an honest reception of the truth. They hear it and understand it and keep it and bring forth fruit with patience, even to thirty, sixty or a hundred fold. All through this age this is what we are to expect and only this. It is ours to sow the seed, the pure seed of the word of God, everywhere and at all times, with confidence in Him that He will accomplish His pleasure by it always. Blessed is that servant whom His Lord when He cometh shall find so doing. Who can estimate the honor of being a laborer with God? Who would not say, "Here am I, send me!" But we must be sure that we preach only the preaching which He bids us, that we carry only His message.

The Invincible Billy

An Irrepressible Boy's Part In a
Love Affair

By AGNES G. BROGAN
Copyright, 1910, by American Press
Association.

They sat upon the pier together, the girl whose eyes were as blue as the sea, the little boy whose flaxen curls framed the face of a cherub and the man who looked askance at the boy and frowned. The girl caressed the child. "Dear," she asked tenderly, "are you tired?"

Billy rested the curly head against his aunt's shoulder and confidently placed his damp boots upon the skirt of her white linen dress. "Nope," he answered concisely.

Jack Winston sighed and shook his head. "When I see the amount of affection you are wasting upon that imp," he said, "my soul is filled with wrath."

The boy scrambled to his feet suddenly and, collecting a handful of small sharp stones, began pelting them at the two occupants of a small boat which glided noiselessly along beside the pier.

"Billy," his aunt cried, horrified—"Billy, did you hit the little boy?"

"You bet I did," her nephew replied gleefully. "That was Dicky Smith. I hate Dicky Smith!"

Miss Brereton's eyes looked unutterably sad. "That was very wrong," she said reprovingly, "and you must not hate him, dear; you must love everybody."

Her nephew laughed. "Everybody!" he exclaimed derisively. "Yes, indeed," his aunt reiterated. Billy considered.

"Do you love everybody, Aunt Beatrice?" he asked. "Do you love Mr. Winston?" A rosy flush covered his aunt's pretty face.

"Of course I do," she answered evenly.

Billy turned to seek an ally in the man. "Do you love everybody, Mr. Winston?" he persisted.

"Not by a good deal, BILL," the man responded warmly. "I have much the same feeling for Mr. Fenway, for instance, that you have for Dicky Smith."

The girl laughed and caught her small nephew by the hand. "What nonsense!" she said. "And now don't you think it is time to go back?"

The three went strolling up the sandy beach, the boy skipping along between them. The hotel guests had assembled upon the wide verandas, awaiting the sound of the gong which would summon them to the evening meal. They halted the delinquents merrily. "Last call for dinner in the dining car," said Fenway. "Billy, come here and give an account of yourself."

He caught up the boy and perched him upon his knee. Beatrice stood leaning against a white pillar, smiling down at them. Winston sat upon a lower step.

"What have you been doing, Billy boy?" Fenway questioned. The child was always very amusing, so the guests leaned forward, eagerly listening for his replies.

"Been down on the pier," Billy piped in his shrill treble, "with Aunt Beatrice and Mr. Winston." A pause. "Aunt Beatrice says she loves Mr. Winston," he repeated deliberately. For a moment there was silence, tense, deadly silence; then Jack Winston committed the unpardonable crime—he laughed.

No one joined him. That made it worse, for all were fascinated in watching the girl's face, which changed so suddenly from white to crimson. She looked contemptuously at Winston for a moment because he could thus enjoy her discomfort.

"Billy," she said desperately, "you remember, I spoke of loving everybody—not Mr. Winston in particular; he was merely included with the others."

It seemed to the man on the low step that her eyes sought Fenway's appealingly. "Merely included with the others." He arose suddenly. "You have sufficiently cleared yourself of the imputation," he began in a low tone, but Billy was speaking again.

"Mr. Winston says," the cherub announced distinctly, "that sometimes we would like to pelt stones at Mr. Fenway." There was a general laugh at this, and Winston was conscious of an overwhelming desire to fall upon the boy and thrash him within an inch of his life.

"Thanks, awfully, Bill," Fenway observed calmly. "Forewarned is forearmed. Henceforth, whenever I see Jack Winston coming my way, I shall run."

The company dispersed in little chattering groups toward the dining room. Billy was borne thence upon Fenway's shoulder, and Beatrice followed. As Winston passed she averted her eyes, and so during the endlessly long week which followed she perversely ignored his existence and admirably succeeded in dispelling any erroneous idea which might have prevailed regarding her partiality toward him. And the injured one hid himself in faraway corners and worked resolutely upon the serial story which he was preparing for one of the current magazines. He had neglected his writing lately, and there was much to do. Occasionally Billy would seek him out, but was always curiously dismissed. In fact, the thorns were beginning to show among Billy's roses, for his champion, Fenway, had suddenly departed for town, and Aunt Beatrice had developed into a very unreasonable person. One could not tell how to please her.

When they started for a walk upon their last afternoon at the seaside Aunt Beatrice first found the wooded path too shady, then decided that the sun shone too brightly upon the pier, and later when the man in the little post-office informed them that there were "no letters today" Billy really thought she was going to cry. "Pr'aps," he comforted, "Mr. Fenway will write a nice letter to you bimby, but," he added, with the strange perversity of childhood, "I like Mr. Winston best."

Aunt Beatrice very unexpectedly bent down and kissed his upturned face. "Billy boy," she said sadly. "Mr. Winston does not like us any more, and it is all because of you." Billy pondered deeply upon this. If it was his fault that these two funny grown-up people refused to speak to each other then some way or other he must be the one to straighten things out. He did not quite know how he was going to accomplish this purpose, but would see Mr. Winston at any rate. So it happened that Billy's chubby figure invaded the hiding place among the trees, and Winston ceased scribbling for a moment to look impatiently at the innocent face peeping out from its tangled curls. "Hello!" said Billy cheerfully.

"Don't you see that I am busy?" the man answered. "Now run along."

"All right," Billy agreed, and sat down upon a fallen tree trunk. Winston resumed his writing. As he finished one sheet he would tear it hastily from the pad and toss it from him. The ground near by seemed covered with the closely written pages.

"You write a great many letters," Billy suggested politely. There was no response. "Mr. Fenway went away yesterday," he ventured again. Still no answer. "Aunt Beatrice and I are going home tomorrow," he continued. At last Billy had gained the man's attention. "Tomorrow?" he exclaimed in consternation. "She is going away tomorrow?" Billy was pleased with the sensation he had made. "Yep," he answered coolly. "No more fun here now."

Jack Winston looked far away between the trees to where he could see a glimpse of blue sea beyond. "I suppose not, now that Fenway has gone," he said bitterly. The man continued to gaze gloomily out upon the sea. He had forgotten the story; he had forgotten even Billy until the unusual silence reminded him that his unwelcome visitor had departed. Then he slowly collected the scattered sheets, dropped the pad into a loose coat pocket and with great heaviness of heart turned to go. So she was leaving tomorrow. In all probability he would never see her again, and the happy hours of this summer which had meant everything to him would linger in her memory only as an idle seaside flirtation. The man sighed a mighty sigh, and then the twisted branches before him were parted and Beatrice herself stood there in the opening. She raised a flushed face to his; her blue eyes shone mistily. "I wanted to see you so very much," she said hesitatingly, "that I just could not wait for you to come."

He stared unbelievably. Miss Brereton pouted. "Of course if you are not glad to see me"—she was beginning, when the glorious truth dawned full upon him.

"Glad!" he cried, and the fervor expressed in that one word seemed to quite satisfy the girl. After a long silence she laughed softly. "It was a dear little note," she said. "Do you know you have always appeared to be such a dignified, self-contained person that really I have been a bit afraid of you all along—at least I never imagined that one so calm could write like that."

The last words were uttered in a tone which conveyed her entire approval of the note, which had evidently been the means of bringing her to his side. Winston realized slowly that something remained to be explained. He must be cautious.

"Have you the letter with you, dear?" he asked. She drew a crumpled paper from her belt and, smoothing it out, held it up before his eyes. The man took her hands and the note within his own.

"Dearest," he read in his own handwriting, "I can bear this silence—this separation—no longer. In pity let me see you once more." The scrawl ended abruptly, and the sheet was torn off as though in frantic haste. With a perplexed frown Winston recognized the words with which the hero of the latest serial story begins an ardent epistle to his lady-love.

Beatrice smiled. "You must admit," she said softly, "that Billy made a good messenger. I was sitting in the garden looking sorrowfully out over the hills and wondering if a certain person who considered himself mortally offended could really be so cruel as to allow me to go far away without one word of goodbye when Billy, the dear, came running down the road."

"Aunt Beatrice," he called, "there is a letter for you from Mr. Winston." If it had not been such a nice, anxious letter I might have properly waited for you to come to me, but as it was—well, Billy led me straight to your hiding place."

"Dearest," said Winston in the phrasing of the letter, "I humbly apologize for the many unkind remarks which I have made from time to time concerning your nephew. He is an angel, a remarkably clever child. There has never been his equal." Beatrice sighed contentedly, and Winston, happening to glance over the crown of her head at this moment, saw the afore-said angel seated upon the tree trunk close by, apparently a very much interested spectator.

"Say," said Billy wearily, "cut it out, won't you? Supper's ready."

RED FACES AND RED NOSES CURED IN A SHORT TIME.

Do you suffer the embarrassment of carrying around an extremely red nose? or are you tortured with a red, blotchy or pimply face? If so you are foolish to stand it long; it is the simplest and easiest thing in the world to get rid of. No matter what might have been the cause, the following harmless and inexpensive treatment will positively remove all traces of your embarrassment in from two to four weeks.

Get this prescription filled at any Drug Store: Clearola one-half ounce, Ether one ounce, Alcohol seven ounces.

Mix and apply to the parts affected as often as possible, but morning and night anyway, allowing it to remain on as long as possible, never less than ten minutes, the longer the better, then you can wipe off the powdery film deposited on the skin.

You can get this put up at any Drug Store.

For any skin trouble this has no equal.

HECKERMAN LETTER

Meets Old Friends—Sales Counting Up.

Birmingham, Ala., June 11, 1910.

My, what a change in this city since I was here last! Many hundreds of old houses have been torn down and replaced with modern skyscrapers. The city has spread out, and sections that a few years ago were old fields have now beautiful cottages and lawns on them where those in the medium walks of life live with their families and enjoy the healthy air which is wafted from the mountains nearby. Especially is this true on the south side of the city out toward Idlewild.

I tell you that on Louise Street are some dandy homes and these occupied by lovely people. I met a family of five little children and they were the happiest lot of little folks I had seen for an age.

The new terminal depot is a thing of beauty and convenience, where all the roads centering in the city, save two, go to. The old dummy street cars have disappeared and are supplanted by the latest in street cars. These have safety gates that prevent hanging on and standing on the steps and of course, lessen the number of accidents.

C. C. Hafer, known to your older readers, left Bedford as a railroader in 1884, came here and has been working for the A. G. S. R. R. ever since. He has for years operated an engine which hauls their swiftest train between Birmingham and Chattanooga. His engine is brought to him in the terminal station already to hook to the train when it comes from New Orleans. Clay mounts and pulls the lever and off she goes at a fifty-mile clip, only making two stops. As Clay is home most of the time he has had time to pick up not only a lovely and business-like wife but lots of dollars. He now owns two large touring cars; one he hires out at $3 per hour, the other at $5, and these of themselves make a handsome living for the family. Clay ten years ago bought a home on Fourth Avenue for $3,000 and sold it while it was there for $15,000. He has made many such deals and his good wife is just as sharp as he when it comes to a "dicker." He asked about a number of Bedford boys that he could remember.

He certainly showed me a nice time, and as I had dinner with him I can vouch for the elegant chicken potpie that his wife can get up. He longs to get back to Bedford again and would give his last summer's straw hat to get Harry Hafer to come and see him. Had, you'd better come; you will have the time of your life.

We have had a lot of hot weather since I wrote you, and this is what the farmers want to force the cotton along. Cotton and corn are alike inasmuch as they each require warm nights.

I had a very pleasant chat the other day with Joe Lessig who is getting on nicely; his daughter Louise was married a few weeks ago. I also saw little Ann Heckerman and when she ran to me and put her arms around my neck and said "papa" it brought the tears to my eyes for she is a lovely baby, just like the other Heckerman babies.

I had no idea that there was so much wheat raised in Alabama as I saw some days ago between Decatur and Nashville, and so much of it cut and shocked as early as June 4, but the shocks did not stand nearly so thick as they do in Bedford county. Those living in that section have awakened to the fruit proposition and are planting thousands of acres of poor land in fruit, mostly apples. Their orchards that are several years old look mighty thrifty.

The corn and cotton are both small and the tobacco doesn't look very big either.

I want to spend Sunday at Mammoth Cave, Ky. One never tires of the wonders of this most wonderful place.

I have just gone over my first month's work since leaving the dear old town and it may be interesting to know just what Dad has sold in the Sunny South between May 9 and June 9. I sold of Fort Bedford package peanuts alone three thousand nine hundred and sixty cases (3,960), each containing one hundred packages, making three hundred and ninety-six thousand (396,000) packages. These are sold at five cents a package, thus making nineteen thousand eight hundred dollars ($19,800), and along with this I sold five hundred and forty cases of Fort Bedford Peanut Butter, each case containing two dozen glasses or ten hundred and eighty dozen all told. Those sell for ten cents a glass, making twelve thousand nine hundred sixty dollars. Now add the sales of Fort Bedfords to these two items as made by Dad in four weeks thirty-two thousand seven hundred sixty dollars, or eight thousand one hundred ninety dollars per week. Besides this I sold a lot of salted peanuts in bulk and in one and five-cent packages. For me to add these items to the above would look like bragging and this I want to avoid. I merely give you these figures to show to those who clutch to their dollars so tight that the eagles on them squawk, and who think Bedford is no place for manufacturing that they are mistaken. I feel my weakness as a salesman and have no doubt that many others could have sold much more. My poorest day's sales was two thousand packages of Fort Bedfords and fifteen cases, thirty dozens, of peanut butter, while my best day was thirty-three thousand nine hundred packages of Fort Bedfords and five cases, ten dozen, peanut butter; besides I was sick one day and did nothing.

Yours truly,
M. P. Heckerman.

NO WOMAN CAN AFFORD TO MAKE UNDERMUSLINS

WE SELL THEM READY-MADE FOR SO LITTLE

¶ You couldn't buy the materials and make up dainty undermuslins at home for less than the finished garments are marked here. In fact unless you are a very clever seamstress you couldn't produce lingerie anything like so pretty no matter how much time and money you give to the matter.

¶ Petticoats, corset covers, night gowns, drawers and combinations in both lace and embroidery trimmed models, appear in ample assortments. Some are delicate and filmy. Others so sturdy and durable that no amount of laundering will injure them.

¶ The season of the year, the extent and variety of our stocks, and the modest prices prevailing, all proclaim this the "time of times" to buy undermuslins.

If you have any doubt about the advisability of your purchasing—one glance at the goods and the low prices they bear will dispel it.

Corset Covers . . .	20c to $2.00
Skirts . . . . .	50c to $2.25
Drawers . . . . .	25c to $1.25
Night Robes . . .	50c to $2.00

SATISFACTION GOES WITH EVERY PAIR OF THESE HOSE

¶ The lasting satisfaction which long wearing qualities bring. Also the pleasure of having pretty, silky looking hosiery, and the agreeable knowledge of an excellent value received.

¶ Wear is not the only thing to be considered when buying hosiery. Fit and finish are points that no careful buyer will overlook. It is the combination of superior fit and finish with exceptional durability that makes for the excellency of our hose.

Fine Lisle Hose in medium and light weights, highly mercerized, are splendid values.
At 25c, 37 1/2c and 50c per pair.
